

ENEMY DRIVE ON ANZIO "COSTLY FAILURE"

POSITION OF ALLIED FORCE STILL INTACT

Third Large-Scale Attempt of Enemy to Drive Americans Into Sea Now Has Collapsed

NATIONAL RAIDS REPULSED

By RICHARD G. MASSOCK
Allied Headquarters, Naples, March 3.—(AP)—A strong German drive into the center of the Anzio beachhead this week was described officially today as "a costly failure."

The enemy offensive, the third large-scale attempt to drive the American and British forces into the sea, was now collapsed. Two final German assaults with tanks and infantry late Wednesday were repulsed, it was announced, and no further attacks came yesterday. American troops of the Third Army division bore the brunt of the attack and second "a complete defensive success," a headquarters spokesman said. Less than a week ago, the Third, originally composed chiefly of troops from the Pacific coast, was officially commended for previous exploits on the beachhead.

Whether the enemy is regrouping for a continuance of the offensive from some other sector is not known, but a blistering attack repulsed from the air yesterday. Flying Fortresses, Liberators and lighter aircraft served as a strong deterrent. Gen. Mark W. Clark, commanding general of the Fifth Army, said last night the enemy suffered a serious setback. This latest German failure to drive out the beachhead, other Allied officers said, meant that heavy losses have been inflicted on the divisions which spearheaded the assault, centered on a 1,000-foot front midway between Capri and Cisterna.

The Mediterranean Allied Air Force, hurling virtually their entire strength yesterday against the Germans around the beachhead, dropped about 40,000 fragmentation bombs from some 1,600 planes—a record for this type of attack in this theatre. In the final attack late Wednesday, the two-day offensive the Germans were forced to cross open country and Allied artillery tore holes in their ranks even before the German troops reached the beach. Subsequently, American troops cut out a few minor infiltrations.

BULLETINS

London, March 3.—(AP)—A royal mission set out today in quest of a solution to Great Britain's declining birth rate, described officially as "one of the most somber policies of the times."

Scouting Expedition Turns Into Full-Fledged Invasion Now In Progress

MOMOTE HOLDING OUT

Allied Headquarters, Southwest Pacific, March 3.—(AP)—Headquarters disclosed today that the initial Admiralty Islands landing was a scouting expedition in force to probe Japanese strength but, after a first day inspection by Gen. Douglas MacArthur and a gallant stand later by outnumbered troops, a full-fledged invasion is in progress.

Strong reinforcements have been put ashore. From a beachhead a mile long and three quarters of a mile deep, they are fanning out from the quickly-captured Momote airdrome to engage the few thousand Japanese still holding the bulk of Los Negros Island.

The elastic offensive shifted from reconnaissance to invasion after Allied commanders sensed the Japanese were caught flat-footed and outmaneuvered into dispersed positions. The island's key positions, the 5,000-foot-long airdrome and adjacent Hyane Harbor, were overrun quickly Tuesday by the reconnaissance force landed under the shells of destroyers. While enemy snipers still presented a menace, General MacArthur looked over the situation and said, "Hold on to what you take."

Wednesday, before dawn, the Japanese counter-attacked and were repulsed. That night and early Thursday, the Fifth Cavalry Regiment beat off infiltrating Japanese, withstood enemy mortar fire and clung to the thinning perimeter about the airdrome although outnumbered. Thursday the reinforcements started coming off the boats. The perimeter was established firmly. Engineers began filling holes made in the airdrome runway by the pre-landing bombardment.

Headquarters reported today a series of air smashes, many of them in support of the landing operation which penetrated deep into the Bismarck Sea, bypassed Rabaul and severed Japan's supply route between Truk and New Guinea.

Future Oil Supply Causing Concern

Washington, March 3.—(AP)—President Roosevelt reiterated concern today over the country's future supply of oil.

He told a news conference, at which his opinion of the Arabian pipeline proposal was asked, that the question is where the nation is going to get its oil not only five years from now but 50 years in the future.

There was laughter when a reporter observed that the oil question seems to be a "hot one" and Mr. Roosevelt replied he had heard of hot oil before.

He said he did not know whether a proposal to build the Arabian pipeline required legislation or not, but commented that a senate committee looking into the situation is entitled to the facts.

CHILLS COMING

More chilly weather is promised for tomorrow, with snow for this section, and it may be that the snow showers will have another inning. The mercury today stood at 35, which was a difference of 22 degrees from Thursday.

22 German Divisions Facing Allied Armies At Beachhead

By WES GALLAGHER

London, March 3.—(AP)—Hitler's furious attempts to smash the Anzio beachhead has elevated Italy to a major battle front, with the latest authoritative estimates placing the German forces pitted against the Allied troops at 22 divisions.

The German high command is following the same tactics used last winter in Tunisia, when it poured division after division from Italy in the hope of salvaging a victory.

INSTALLATION IN ROME RAIL YARDS RAIDED

American Heavy Bombers Pound Targets in France, Germany and Northern Italy

STAB ROCKET GUN AREA

BULLETIN
Allied Headquarters, Naples, March 3.—(AP)—American heavy bombers again attacked Rome's railroad installations today, the Mediterranean Allied Air Force announced. "Early reports," the statement said, "indicate the railway yards were well covered and that the airdrome bombing was good. Both the Fortresses and Liberators were escorted by fighters."

It was believed a sizeable force struck the Italian capital's chief freight yards through which military traffic flows to both the beachhead and main Fifth Army fronts.

By AUSTIN BEALMER

London, March 3.—(AP)—American heavy bombers pounded Germany for the second straight day today, concentrating on undisclosed objectives in the northwest sector while medium bombers slashed at German airfields in northern France.

RAF formations, taking to the air last night for their second successive night, had hammered aircraft factories near Paris and at Albert in northern France only a few hours before.

The U. S. bombers were escorted by fighters of both the Eighth and Ninth American airforces, as well as Allied fighters, an indication that the operation was of considerable size.

The wide-spread daylight smashes also included stabs at the French "rocket gun" sector by RAF fighter-bombers. The RAF's operations, including Mosquito slashes at western Germany and mine-laying in enemy waters, were carried out without loss.

The attacks upon the aircraft factories in France were part of a sustained Allied offensive to knock out German aircraft production and clear the Luftwaffe from the skies in preparation for the coming Allied invasion of western Europe.

The air ministry said the targets at both points were "clearly identified and first reports indicate that the bombing was effective."

American marauders attacked airfields in northern France this morning, while RAF Typhoons hit enemy emplacements in the rocket (Turn to Page Eleven)

Special Panel In Lonerger Trial Removed

By JAMES H. PORTERFIELD

New York, March 3.—(AP)—A sensational fight to convict 26-year old Wayne Lonerger as the bludgeoned slayer of his heiress wife ended dramatically today when Judge John J. Freschi dismissed a special jury panel, forcing a new trial.

The jurist declared Lonerger's counsel, Edward V. Broderick, had attempted to make a "farce and mockery" of the trial and had evidenced "a lack of good faith" by doing a right about face on a motion to throw out the panel.

Broderick demanded on the opening day of the trial that prospective jurors be discharged on the ground of prejudice, but he stormily refused to join Assistant District Attorney Jacob Grumet yesterday in asking that the motion be reconsidered.

Simultaneously with the jury dismissal Judge Freschi ordered the partly defense attorney to appear in court a week from today to answer contempt charges for failure to appear on two successive days when the trial first was scheduled to begin last week.

Soldier With Wife In U. S., Reported Father of Quads, Says Everything Is All Right

By RUTH COWAN

Heaton, Derbyshire, England, March 3.—(AP)—Norah Rose Carpenter was distressed today by the death of MacDonald, the youngest of her quadruplets born Monday, but her first thought was of their soldier-father—that he had to be notified and that it would be a blow to him.

As I talked to her in her home, she said quietly: "I must write out a telegram to tell Red that the youngest is dead. It will be a shock to him."

With a pink jacket about her shoulders, she sat up in bed. Norah put her story into three simple words—"I love Red." "Red" is Staff Sgt. William Thompson, of Pittsburgh, Pa., who, both the girl's mother, Mrs. Ellen Carpenter, and Miss Edith Matthews, the nursing home superintendent, said is the babies' father.

See page seven for pictures of quadruplets and other principals involved.

Norah said she met Thompson Dec. 16, 1942. "The first day he was allowed out of camp after his arrival in England, I knew he was married right from the first, but it was just one of those things."

"At first, he talked about his wife a good deal. We tried to break it up on account of her, but we couldn't. We tried to quit going together. But we couldn't. In May, I think it was, he wrote her and asked for his freedom. She said no, because of her religion. (Thompson's wife is Catholic.)"

The other three children were reported doing well. (In Pittsburgh the wife of Staff Sgt. William Thompson was reported in seclusion last night and her mother, Mrs. Mary Jenemann, was quoted as saying the family had "no definite proof" that Sgt. Thompson was the father of the Heaton quads.)

Advices from Washington, meanwhile, quoted a U. S. War Department spokesman as saying the babies would be eligible for dependency payments if their father is an American soldier and acknowledges them as his children.

The monthly payment is $30 for the first child and $20 for each additional child.

COUNTY TO RECEIVE FED. FORESTRY MONEY

Philadelphia, March 3.—(AP)—Four Pennsylvania counties, in which the Allegheny National Forest is situated, will get $6,328.97 as their share of net national forest income to the federal government, headquarters of the eastern region of the U. S. Forest Service announced today.

The money came from sales of timber from national forests. The Pennsylvania money has been sent to Governor Edward Martin for road and school fund use in the particular counties.

At Harrisburg, the State Department of Forest and Waters said distribution of the funds based on the proportionate acreage each county has in the national forest area has not been worked out.

The forest is located in Elk, Forest, McKean and Warren counties.

AFRAID OF FIRE

Police have been asked to stop boys playing about the buildings of the old Peterson Chair Works as the owners are fearful that fires may be started and the buildings destroyed. Police officers last evening visited the home of a number of boys and the parents promised to keep their offspring out of the old buildings.

Fourth War Loan Goes Two Billion Over Goal

Washington, March 3.—(AP)—The $14,000,000,000 Fourth War Loan passed its goal by $2,730,000,000 but even more impressive in treasury eyes was the $3,187,000,000 garnered from buyers of "E" bonds, the so-called "people's bond."

First time and E bond quota has been passed, the total represented 60,000,000 separate purchases, 7,500,000 more than in the third war loan last September when "little money" sales totaled $2,472,000,000.

Negro Is Held For Slaying In Cathedral

Bit of Unswept Dust Blamed By Capital Police for Librarian's Death

CONFESSION IS MADE

By JACKSON S. ELLIOTT

Washington, March 3.—(AP)—A bit of unswept dust was blamed by capital police today for the bludgeoning slaying of Catherine Cooper Reardon, attractive 37-year old librarian at Washington cathedral, the burial place of Woodrow Wilson and other notables.

Held on a murder charge was Julius Fisher, 34, negro handyman arrested in an obscure restaurant after a whirlwind search for the perpetrator of Washington's second sensational killing within a fortnight.

Following police announcement of a confession, Fisher was arraigned before a U. S. commissioner on a first degree murder charge and pleaded innocent.

Major Edward J. Kelly, chief of police, said Fisher had admitted fatally beating and choking Miss Reardon Wednesday night after he learned she had complained that he had not swept the dust from beneath her desk.

Kelly quoted Fisher as saying he found Miss Reardon at her desk and struck her with a piece of firewood. She ran and he followed her, Kelly said, striking again and choking her. Then he dragged her body into a steampipe pit.

She was found clothed only in a slip. She had not been ravished. Miss Reardon, member of one of Virginia's oldest and best known families, had been employed for eight years at the cathedral, one of Washington's showplaces.

Six-Alarm Fire In Philadelphia

Philadelphia, March 3.—(AP)—

Four hundred guests, many of them aged and invalid, were routed by billowing smoke last evening as a six-alarm fire swept the original three-story structure of the Majestic Hotel on Broad street 12 blocks north of City Hall.

The blaze, which flared suddenly in a loft just as the five o'clock rush was at its peak, was brought under control within less than two hours as the multiple alarms summoned 41 pieces of apparatus to the scene. Manager G. Earl Myers said damage would exceed $50,000.

Ice which coated the building and nearby streets as firemen poured tons of water into the building made walking dangerous in the area, especially for firemen and volunteers who carried 16 aged and invalid guests to safety.

SOVIETS CONTINUE DRIVE TO LIBERATE BALTIC REPUBLICS DESPITE FREAKISH WEATHER

More Territory Between Finnish Gulf and Lake Peipus Captured and Held on the Narva Communications Tightened

TOMMY-GUNNERS INCH FORWARD NEAR PSKOV

By EDDY GILMORE

Moscow, March 3.—(AP)—Despite a freakish, spring-like thaw which is hampering military operations, the Red army is continuing its smashing offensive to liberate the Soviet Baltic republics and has materially improved its positions, dispatches from the front said today.

Temperatures were reported almost as high as they usually are in late April or May, and melted ice and snow was said to be making many roads impassable.

Russian forces, nevertheless captured more territory between Lake Peipus and the Finnish gulf and tightened their hold on Narva's communications, while in the suburbs of Pskov Russian tommy-gunners inched forward in fierce fighting, frontline advisers said.

South of Pskov, meanwhile, other Red army forces were reported driving down the 12-mile-long highway from captured Soshikino toward Ostrov. The latter city, 32 miles south of Pskov, is a junction of the Pskov-Warsaw-Berlin railway.

PUBLISHERS TO HEAR DEWEY OUTLINE STAND

By JACK BELL

Washington, March 3.—(AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York is expected by friends here to outline his position soon on some of the major political issues of the day, despite his reiteration that he is not a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination.

Announcement that Dewey would speak before the Bureau of Advertising of the American Newspaper Publishers Association in New York April 27 raised speculation he might use that opportunity to present his views on post-war foreign policy.

PROHIBITION PARTY SELECTS STATE SLATE

Harrisburg, March 3.—(AP)—The state committee of the Pennsylvania Prohibition party nominated candidates for five state-wide offices and immediately made plans to begin circulating petitions next Monday to get their names on the November general election ballot.

Charles Palmer, Philadelphia attorney, was selected yesterday as the party's nominee for U. S. Senator; Mrs. Ada M. Prugh, Harrisburg, auditor general; The Rev. Dr. H. B. Mansell, Pittsburgh, state treasurer; C. Clifford Conrad, Lansdowne, state supreme court; and Miss Ida G. Last, Mechanicsburg, state superior court.

Counter-Offer Is Expected From Finland

Stockholm, March 3.—(AP)—An indication that Finland intends to offer counter-proposals to Russia's armistice terms came today from the Helsinki newspaper Social Demokrati, mouthpiece for the Finnish parliament's strongest political party.

Declaring that at first glance the conditions for peace outlined by Moscow appeared "harsh and even cruel," the newspaper expressed the opinion that they were meant only to form the basis for further negotiation and that Finland will have a chance to express its own views.

The article, informed Finnish sources said, was inspired by the majority view of parliament which gave the Finnish government a vote of confidence at a secret session Tuesday. The newspaper speaks authoritatively for the Social Democratic party.

(Radio France at Algiers quoted an informed Budapest report that the Finnish ambassador to Berlin had arrived at Stockholm, and that Juho Kusti Paasikivi, former Finnish premier who negotiated the 1939-40 "winter war" peace with Russia, also had returned to the Swedish capital.)

45,000 Square Miles Whittled From Bloodily-Gained Empire

By the Associated Press
Allied forces have wrested approximately 45,000 square miles away from Japan's bloodily-gained empire in the Pacific, but there's still a long way to go before she's cut down to the size promised by United Nations leaders her own homeland territory.

The writhing process began with the American invasion of Guadalcanal and adjoining islands in the lower Solomons in August, 1942. The latest cut was made in this week's Yankee landings in the Admiralty islands in the Bismarck sea some 1,100 miles to the northwest.

RUSSIA WILL HAVE PART OF ITALIAN FLEET

President Discloses in Press Conference Discussions Under Way to Transfer Warships

STETTINIUS TO LONDON

By HAROLD OLIVER

Washington, March 3.—(AP)—President Roosevelt said today that discussions were about half completed for transferring roughly one-third of the surrendered Italian fleet to Russia.

The president also told a press radio conference that Edward R. Stettinius, acting secretary of state, would go to London soon to discuss with British officials a dozen or more questions awaiting solution.

He disclosed that the United States and Great Britain already were using some of the Italian tonnage that was surrendered with the capitulation of Italy, and that efforts now are being made to determine how many of these ships or their equivalent can be turned over to the Russian navy.

He said this was the question he had told previous press conferences that Marshal Stalin had brought up through his Washington ambassador. He described it as a rather old question and related to what ships or their equivalent would go to Russia.

He emphasized that so long as the war lasts the Allies will use everything afloat against the enemy but that after the war that was something else.

Asked whether the ships would be manned by Italians, Mr. Roosevelt replied some way and some may not. As for Italian ships which escaped to the Balearic islands, the president said that was a Spanish problem.

As for Stettinius' trip, the president said the acting secretary of state, accompanied by several assistants, would leave soon after Secretary Hull returns from a (Turn to Page Eleven)

Air Medal Award For Warren Flier

Tribute to another Warren flier is contained in the announcement that Lt. Thomas S. Wickstrom has been awarded the Air Medal for "meritorious service in the Southwest Pacific Area."

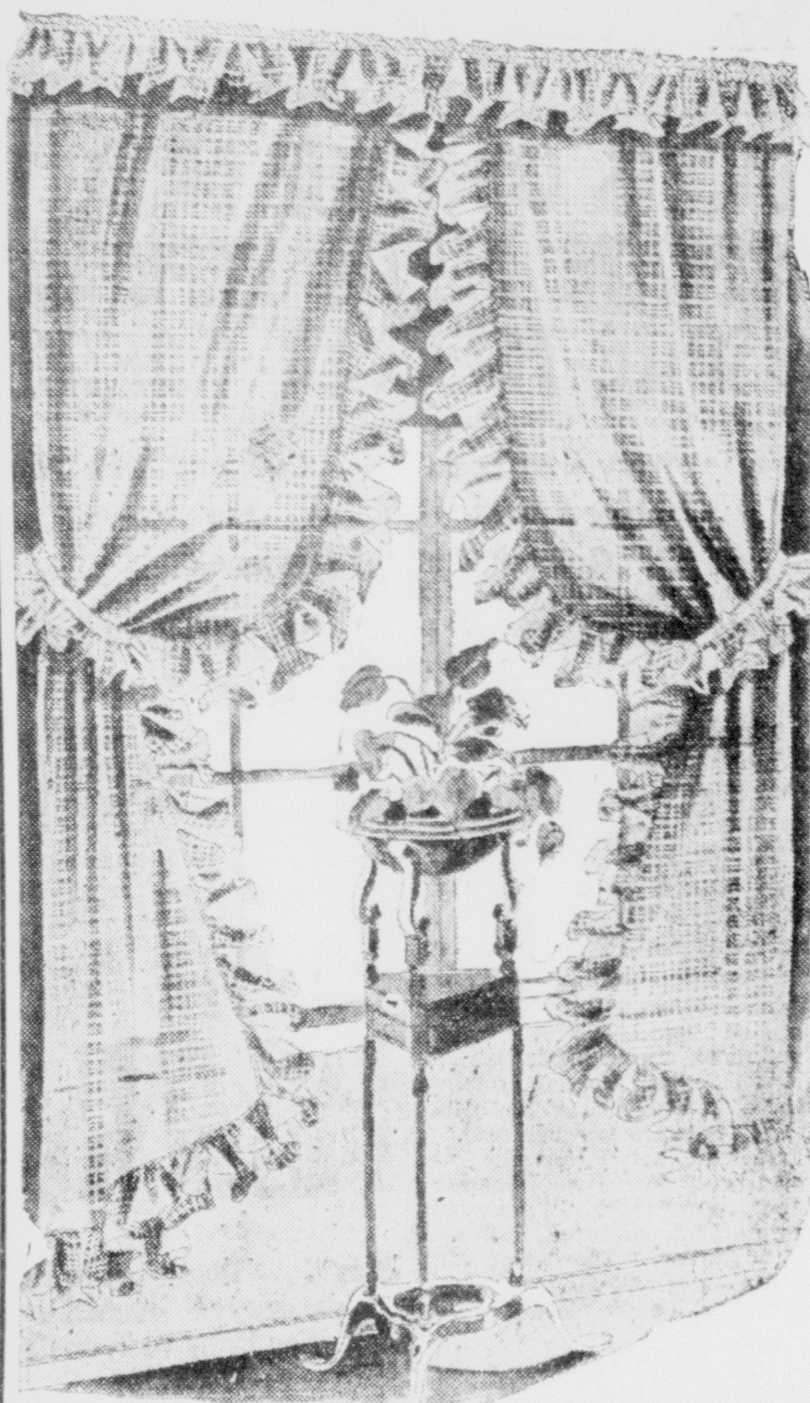

"Tom," as he is familiarly known to many, entered the service March 19, 1941. He was originally with the Medical Corps at Camp Croft, S. C., transferring to the Army Air Corps in April, 1942.

He received his bombardier's wings and commission in January, 1943, at Kirtland Field, Albuquerque, N. M.

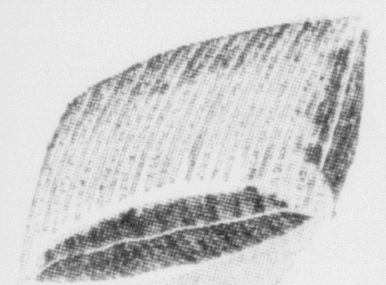

Lt. Wickstrom has been in the Southwest Pacific since August of last year and has 300 flying hours to his credit, including 25 accredited strike missions, a number of searches and sorties. He received his commission as first lieutenant last November.

A graduate of Warren High School, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Wickstrom, North Warren, and was formerly employed by the United Refining Company.

MAY AVERT FIRE

In an advertisement appearing in today's issue Sam Thomas is seeking chimneys to clean and householders may save themselves a fire by attending to their chimneys. The burning of coal has clogged up many chimneys and fire alarms from this cause are frequent.

TURNED GAS DOWN

Firemen were called at 11:55 last night to a vacant house at 312 East street. Paper hangers had been at work in the house and they had not turned down the gas under the hot water heater in the kitchen. It was burning within 18 inches of the wall which was heated almost to the burning point. The firemen turned down the gas.

HAS PURCHASED DINOR

Win Cotton, of the Warren Tire Service, has purchased the dinor on Pennsylvania avenue, near Water street and Art Ardell, formerly with the Ritchey Dinor at Youngsville, is in charge. An effort will be made to have the dinor open on Sundays as Mr. Cotton feels that there should be more places to eat open here over the weekend.

FLOATED DOWN RIVER

Employees of the Osborne Company of Franklin, determined that instead of dismantling the float used in the repairs of the Hickory street bridge to float it down the river to Franklin. The float accordingly pulled out of Warren yesterday afternoon and before dark last night had passed Starbrick. At the present stage of the river it is thought that the float can be taken to Franklin with no trouble.

Latin Classes Give Patriotic Program Before Large Crowd

Beatty Latin classes in their presentation of the pageant, "Salute to the Flag" by Esther C. Averill, at the school last evening in observance of Latin Week, displayed in an excellent manner the glory that is our heritage and the home of the future which is the destiny of generations yet to come. Each part of the flag was the subject of a fine lesson on the blessings and privileges afforded by "The Star Spangled Banner".

Narrator was Barbara Bova with these others participating: Bill Fuellhart, Mary Alice Fischer, Alan Schuler, Martha Winans, Bud Maier, Theresa Martin, Bruce Black, Evelyn Peterson, Arthur Cheronis, Mary Louise Blair, Jack Kyler, Lorna Mae Hulings, Mary Wendelboe, William Houston and Joan Chester.

In the course of the pageant, a number of patriotic airs were sung in Latin and English by these pupils: Lola Wilkison, Lucille Hogue, Charles Sires, Sophie Spirdon, Richard Kerr, Lewis Lowe, Tom Hampson, Raymond Streich, Dora Messner, Geraldine Peterson, Margy Hanna, Charles Cochener, Karl Gossman, Fred Printz, Mary Ruhlman, Jean MacLaren, John Giltman, Mary Evelyn Hill, Meredith Hutchings, Joan Yagge, Helen Kemp, Janet Tritt, Iris Jean Eldridge, Agnes Porter, Audrey Meyers, Natalie McKenzie, Teresa Fino, Lois Peterson, Betsy Conaway, Arlene Speckman and Richard Swick.

Harry Kridler was in charge of the program, which opened with two trombone solos by Walter "Terry" Thurn, accompanied by John Knapp. Louis Chimenti was in charge of a "spelloid" in which the following took part: Jeanne Anthony, Onole Burgess, Kathryn Kondak, Alice Beals, Rita Scrivano, Jacqueline Smith, Ronald Massa, Kenneth Lundahl, Donald McComas, David Bevevino, Frank Kabot, William Dyke, Agnes Hessley, Bette Burke, Jack Patterson, Barbara Cochran, Lois Ann Loree, Albert Marrer, Philip Johnson, Larry Korb, Barbara Streich, Julian Gordon, Kenneth Lundahl emerged the winner.

Following a piano number by Sophie Spirdon, three talks were given on Latin themes by Henry Blick, Maryon Seaman and Wilmer Latshaw. Martha Winans played two cello solos, followed by the reading of the story of Tarpeia. The lesson was read in Latin and translated into English by Frank Marlett, Edward Allen, Jeanne Way, Ruth Schellhammer, LaVerne Storum, Jean Elliott, Sarol Proud, Olga Glassman, Marie Kamerer and Lois Sigworth.

Ruth Kaebnick was pianist of the evening and also played a Rachmaninoff selection. Ushers were Edward Wood, Vera Pickard, Mark Rutledge, Betty Gertsch and Edward Corbran. The pupils presented their teacher, Miss Leona Westland, with two dozen lovely red roses in token of their appreciation of her efforts and the program ended with singing of the National Anthem by the audience. Teresa Fino, in a lovely soprano, sang the first verse in Latin.

DETAIL FOR TODAY

Bar Maid

BAR MAIDS are local girls who date none but officers. They bar men with no bars—hence their name. The enlisted men have no use for them and vice versa, which makes it lovely for the officers. BAR MAIDS are common in large cities and usually have their cap set for a first lieutenant or a captain. Many of them, however, wind up married to a buck private—and love it!

BRICK IN CHIMNEY

Firemen were called to the home of Mrs. William Smith, 131 Russell street this morning. A brick in the chimney had clogged it and caused a blaze to start. The trouble was soon remedied and there was no loss.

MINISTERIAL SPEAKER

Dr. Leonard Rosenzweig, of Warren State Hospital, will be the guest speaker at the meeting of Warren County Ministerial Association to be held at 10:30 a. m. Monday at the YMCA. His topic will be "Psychiatry and Religion". Rev. Harry Johnson, of Kinzua, will lead the devotions.

VOTERS WARNED

Registrar Ray Thompson issued a warning at the Court House yesterday that March 25th is the final day upon which voters whose names were removed from the eligible lists can apply for re-registration and become qualified for voting in the April 25th, primary election. Candidates are also reminded that the last day to file petitions is Monday, March 6th.

DONT PASS BUSES

Warren motorists who drive in Chautauqua county are warned to exercise special care against passing school buses which have stopped. A meeting was held in Jamestown this week by school busmen and plans were made to take license numbers of all cars passing the buses when they are stopped. Prosecutions are to be made through the motor vehicle bureau in Albany.

PETITIONS FILED

Filing of petitions at Harrisburg for various state offices is under way and this week the petition of W. A. Walker, of this congressional District was filed for Alternate Delegate to the National Convention to be held by the Democrats at Chicago. The petition of James A. Berger, of Coudersport, for the Pennsylvania State Senate also was filed. Mr. Berger is a former Warren boy and son of Clare Berger.

SPAIN AND TURKEY CAUSING WORRY

The relations of Turkey and Spain to the Allies—a matter which has a highly important bearing on the length of the war—again are the international limelight.

Neutrality in Global conflict calls for vast discretion and horse-sense on the part of practitioners. One definition of this status is that it's the state of being neither good nor bad.

The Turks have caused heartburnings by being too good, whereas Spain has made the mistake of leaning too heavily to the bad side. That is, Ankara is said to have failed to respond to Allied pressure to come into the war against the Nazis, while Generalissimo Franco has continued to be Hitler's water boy.

Britain reportedly has suspended delivery of supplies, both military and civilian, to Turkey and American lend-lease is said to be included. Some in the Turkish capital are inclined to interpret this as calculated to force the Turks to get into the war on the Allied side.

Be that as it may, there's small doubt that should Turkey march her army up the Balkan peninsula, an early effect likely would be to make Bulgaria desert the Axis and precipitate an upheaval which would uncover the right flank of Hitler's battle line in Russia. This would compel him to make a quick retreat or face disaster.

EASTER SEALS TO AID CRIPPLED

Buy and Use Easter Seals—so urges the Crippled Children Committee of Warren county. By doing so the gallant work of restoring crippled children to health and happiness may forge ahead.

Orthopedic surgeons and nurses have labored untiringly; hospitals have turned over their facilities at reduced rates; medicine has been supplied at wholesale prices and many persons have given freely of their time, that children may walk and laugh and live.

The funds made up of contributions from interested friends are responsible for the magnificent work that has so far been accomplished in the community. Such friends are again urged to buy Easter Seals; new friends are solicited. Actually such an opportunity to do so much is rare; it should be a privilege for any individual to so contribute to a cause—there is no worthier one.

Remember—every Easter Seal purchased helps a crippled child. Give freely—from the heart.

THE TOUCH OF JESUS

"Then touched He their eyes" Matt. 9:29
"put His fingers into his ears" Mark 7:32
"and touched his tongue" Mark 7:32

"Open mine eyes that I may see"
How comforting to the blind must have been the touch of Jesus' hands. A gentle healing, loving touch. And that touch gave them vision, the power to see the things around them. No more groping around and feeling their way. "Now I see!" cried a blind man after Jesus had opened his eyes.

"Open my ears that I may hear"
As there were many blind in Jesus' time so there were also many who were deaf. The deaf live in a silent world. Conscious of action and movement round about them, yet they hear nothing. What a thrill when hearing was given to them! No more cupping of the hands behind the ears or the straining of the ear muscles to catch the sounds. The fingers of Jesus opened up a new world to them.

"Open my mouth and let me bear"
Gladly the warm truth everywhere.
"and the string of his tongue was loosed" is the way that the Bible puts it. As if a dumb person's tongue was actually tied—chained-down. When one watches such a one striving to give some expression to his wants and feelings, it is almost as if he were trying to break the bonds that seem to be holding his tongue in check. What a wonderful thing speech is. How wonderful it must have been to those who came into contact with the Master. How they rejoiced and told over and over the story of their cure.

Yes, the touch of the Master certainly changed things for many a man and woman. How many were healed by Jesus we do not know, but we do know that all who made contact with Him were blessed. It was not only physical blindness, deafness or dumbness that Jesus healed. He brought spiritual sight and hearing to many who had lost contact with their God and sent them away proclaiming the Love that had changed their lives.

As in Jesus' day, so in ours, there is a great need of the Master's touch. The world and we individuals who live in it have wandered too far away and are groping around in the dark as we seek our own way of healing and salvation and find nothing that helps us. "What fools these mortals be" can be truly said of many of us today, for instead of trying the world remedies, that have never given more than temporary relief, all that we have to do is to put ourselves into the Master's hands.

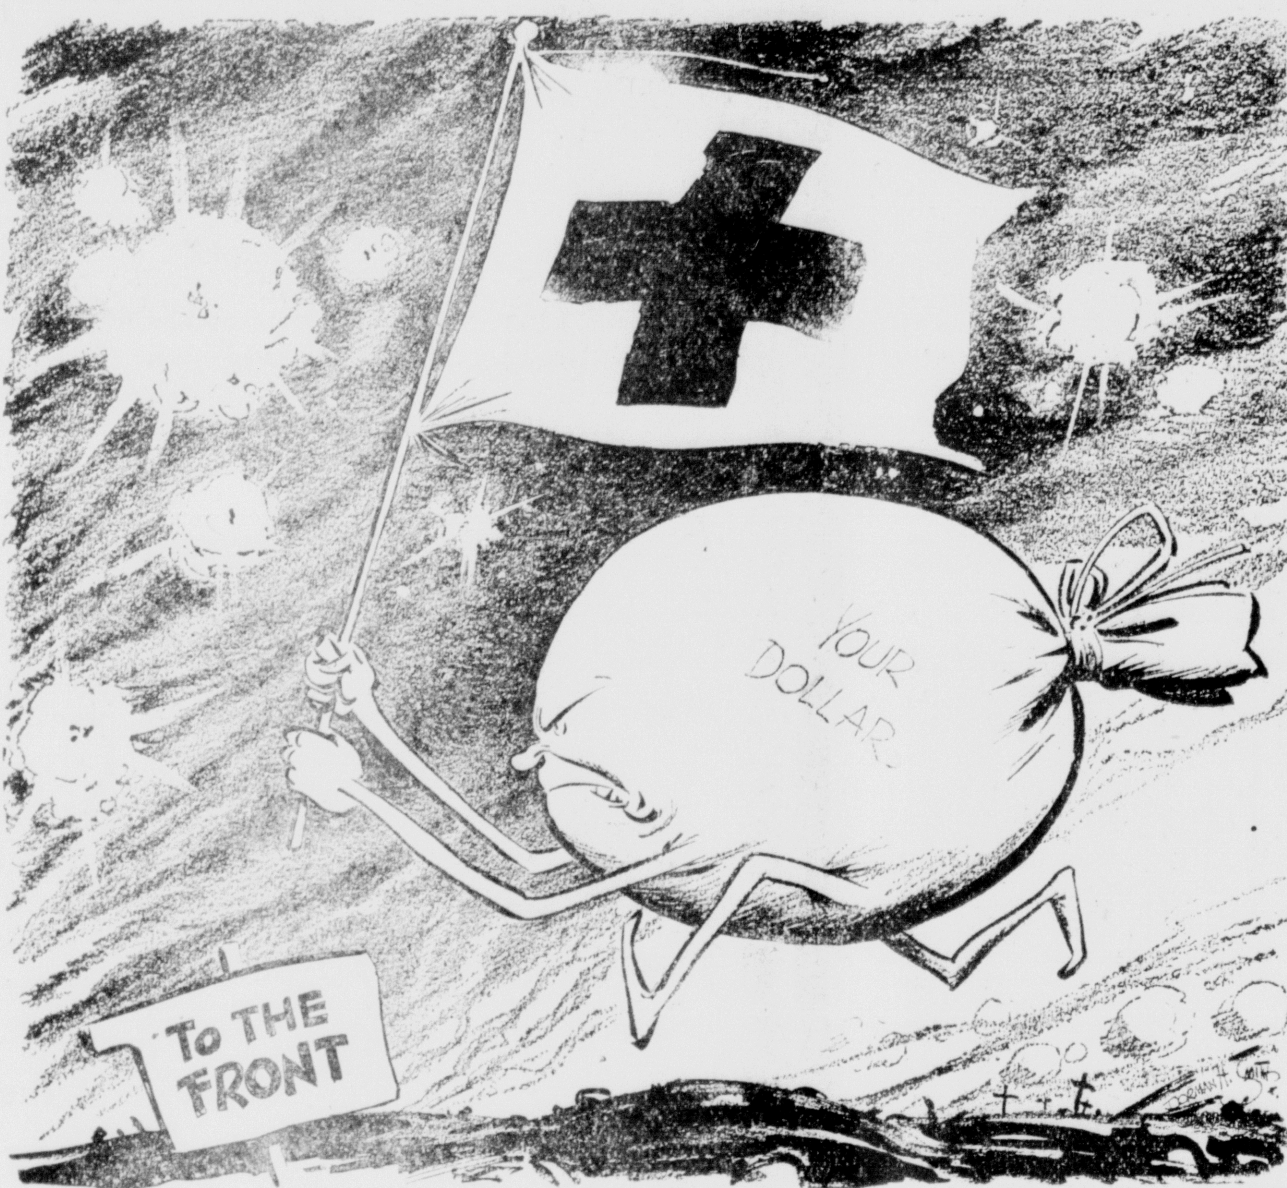

T-H-O-U-G-H-T-S

Woe unto them that seek deep to hide their counsel from the Lord, and their works are in the dark, and they say, who seeth us? and who knoweth us?—Isaiah 29:15.

When the Judge His seat attaineth,
And each hidden deed arraigneth,
Nothing unavenged remaineth.

—Thomas A. Celano.

Your Substitute

Washington in Wartime

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — The Office of Price Administration has the black market miseries. Fear of the spread of this kind of wartime racketeering colors almost every decision OPA makes.

Few realize it, but not since the days of bootlegging has racketeering been so widespread as it is today in the black markets. The authority for this is none other than FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover. Although careful to point out that there actually were fewer crimes reported in the United States last year than previously, Hoover emphasizes that the types of crime are changing. Gangs are on the upswing for the first time since repeal, and the ordinarily law-abiding public is cooperating with them. Both Hoover and OPA Director Chester Bowles point out that black markets couldn't exist without cooperation of the public.

BOWLES' report on the black market activities last year is revealing. Although OPA has less than 3,000 investigators — not even an average of one a county — it investigated 650,000 cases of alleged violations last year.

The No. 1 black market headache is, of course, gasoline. Last year almost half of the black market convictions were for illegal dealings in gasoline or gas ration coupons. OPA estimates that almost 2,500,000 gallons a day are being moved by black marketeers and that if the racket could be stopped, every driver in the United States would have enough gas to travel 45 additional miles a month.

But Hoover warns that the liquor black market may surpass all others unless the trend can be curbed. The old gang methods of highjacking liquor stores by the truckload, robbing warehouses, and selling cut and bootleg liquor at exorbitant prices, are with us again. Even speakeasies are back in some sections, but now they are called "cheat joints." Authorities believe that only the rationing of sugar and the difficulty in obtaining metals for stills has prevented illegal distilling at least on a scale comparable to the earlier days of prohibition.

Other commodities are also included. A black market in oranges was smashed in New York City, where the racketeers had upped the price to $1 a dozen. Washington had a black market in potatoes (as did other cities) that had the Congressmen stewing. Here, as elsewhere, we also have seen a black market in onions.

Practically nationwide have been the black markets in meat. The illegal market in nylon hosiery that has upped the retail price to between $4 and $5 a pair has also been a coast-to-coast scandal.

Both Hoover and Bowles have pledged that their agencies will continue the fight. Black marketeers would not exist, they say, were it not for consumers who have no regard for their patriotic duties and are willing to pay the prices.

FLIGHT from LOVE

by JOHN C. FLEMING and LOIS EBY AP Features

Chapter 27

AS Marek's car turned off Sunset Boulevard, slipped through the massive stone gateway and started up the sharply winding road through Bel-Air, Julie caught her breath at the almost unbelievable beauty of the place. "This is lovely!" Julie said. "How long have you had this place up here?"

"I built it five years ago when Rene and I were first married. We only lived in it a year." Marek looked suddenly serious. "Somehow Rene wasn't happy here, so we decided to call it quits."

The car had reached the summit of the hill and was turning into a winding driveway that skirted the thirty room English manor type house. The top of the hill had been sheared off to make a level clearing of several acres. Two tennis courts, a bright green tile swimming pool and an outdoor stone barbecue dotted the lawn. The lawn was perfectly cared for and the windows of the house shone like clear crystal. "You mean that nobody lives in this lovely place?" Julie asked.

"NOBODY but the caretaker and his wife," Marek said. "I haven't been up here in two months."

The car stopped and Marek and Julie got out. "You might as well run the car into the garage," Marek said to the chauffeur. "We'll be here all afternoon."

Mrs. Primley, a small pleasant-looking woman with white hair answered the door. She seemed happy to see Marek and nodded smilingly toward Julie as Marek introduced them.

Across the living room the doors were flung open onto a wide terrace bordered with bright flowers. Marek led Julie out to a group of chairs awash with the sun.

"Let's get a little of this sun," he said. "I've been in that office so much lately I've almost forgotten what the sun is like."

"It's strange that you haven't sold this place," Julie said. A faint smile crossed Marek's face.

"I did have a deal on it just before I made that trip back east when I met you."

"What happened?"

"WHEN I came home I called the agent and told him the place wasn't for sale any longer. You see, I'm somewhat of a sentimentalist—I've always thought that someday, somehow, I'd find just the right girl who'd fit into this setting. When I met you I knew I'd found her."

Julie felt slow color coming to her cheeks.

"That's sweet of you, Marek, but something's happened to me since I came out here. I used to think that things like this were all that mattered—houses on hillsides, money, social position—these things seem hollow and empty in today's world."

"I know," Marek leaned forward in his chair and took Julie's hand. "But this war will be over someday and people will go back to normal living. You don't want to struggle for an existence then like you are now."

"I don't know," Julie said, "but this factory work has made me look at everything differently. It has given me a new standard of values that I never had before."

"I've seen that," Marek said, "and admired you for it. It will be valuable to you all the rest of your life. I haven't always had things like this, you know. I had to make my own way. I know what it is to struggle and fight to get where you're going."

Mrs. Primley interrupted the conversation by coming out of the house with a small luncheon table. She served a delicious luncheon, whisking in and out of the house with the quiet inconspicuousness of an elf. Julie ate hungrily and smiled frequently across the small table at Marek.

"You're really being much too good to me," Julie said, as they were sipping their coffee. "Much of this and all my fine ideals would be blasted to atoms. I'm afraid I'd go soft again."

"My motives are strictly selfish," Marek said honestly. "What better way could you find out whether or not you would like being Mrs. Marek Dorr than to do all the things that would be expected of her?"

"I still think you've been very patient with me. But I know you wouldn't want me—no man would—until I'm sure in my own mind."

"I think you're worth waiting for," Marek said simply.

Later they walked in the garden. The sun was dipping behind the green hills and the breeze from the ocean carried a sharp tang that foretold the coming of night. The air held the heavy perfume of spicy plants and jasmine mixed in an unearthly aroma of sweetness.

"I've been meaning to tell you," Marek said slowly as they hesitated in their walk by the edge of the swimming pool, "I heard yesterday that a group of army pilots are being flown down here from the Aleutians. There's a big civic banquet for them tomorrow night at the Biltmore."

Julie could feel her heart begin to race.

"You mean the 56th Pursuit Squadron?"

"YES, I couldn't find out just who they were sending. They're on their way back to Washington."

"David will surely be with them!" Julie said hopefully. "I rather think so."

Julie suddenly sat down on a bench. The news had somehow drained the strength from her.

"I have two tickets," Marek said softly. "If you'd care to go with me?"

Julie felt the clash of emotions. Of course she would love to go. But then if David wanted to see her he knew where she was. She didn't answer Marek for several minutes. When she did her voice was calm and controlled.

"No thanks," she said, "I hadn't better take a chance on being late for work and anyway—"

Marek patted her shoulder lightly in a quick gesture of understanding.

"I know exactly what you're thinking," he said. "It's really up to him to do the looking up."

Julie got up from the bench and smiled at Marek.

"Shall we go back to the valley now? I'm getting a little chilly and I didn't bring a coat."

FLIGHT FROM LOVE

Chapter 28

It was three o'clock in the afternoon. Sun was streaming in the kitchen windows and falling in warm, yellow squares on the blue linoleum. Kay was bending over the dispan and Julie was just dried and put away the last warm dish. The morning "Times" spread open on the chair.

"According to the paper," Kay said lightly, "those fliers will arrive here about eight tonight and then be taken directly to the Biltmore for the banquet."

"I know," Julie said. "Maybe Dave can slip away long enough to call me on the phone. . . . There was a note of doubt in her voice.

Kay saw the shadow cross her face. She slipped an arm around Julie's waist and said, "Now, don't worry about it, honey. I'm sure he'll call."

"If he didn't I really couldn't blame him. I can see now why he didn't want the Julie Brampton that he knew back home. Honestly, Kay, I was a terrible snob."

"I wish I had your confidence," Kay had invited Jack to come over for dinner at seven. At first he had insisted that both girls stay with him come place to think a lot of them," Kay said encouragingly.

"I wish I had your confidence," Kay had invited Jack to come over for dinner at seven. At first he had insisted that both girls stay with him come place to think a lot of them," Kay said encouragingly.

"Hmmm," Jack sniffed. "Something smells good in here. What's cooking?"

"SOMETHING very special," Kay said. "Spaghetti a la Perino. We've worked half the day on the darned stuff and if you don't rave about it you're liable to have two very angry women tangled up in your hair." All during the meal and afterward when the dishes had been cleared away and the three were playing gin rummy, Kay and Jack kept up a rapid fire of light, bantering, nonsensical patter. Kay kept watching out of the corner of her eye and as the evening wore on she could see the tension increase in Julie's face. At nine o'clock Julie got up suddenly, tossed her cards on the table and swept from the room. The bedroom door closed sharply and Kay looked across the table at Jack.

"The poor kid's about a nervous wreck waiting for that phone call," Kay said.

Jack looked moody and unhappy. "It does seem to me that Dave could have gotten to a phone long enough to call her and let her know that she would expect it," Kay said crossly.

"Maybe he'll call later," Jack suggested, "after the banquet's over."

"Yeah—probably after we've gone to work," said Kay bitterly. "A lot of good that'll do her."

THE Biltmore banquet room was filled to capacity. Hundreds packed the rows of tables. Under the soft lights, white shirt fronts and glittering evening gowns merged into a symphony of color.

Marek was seated with three other men from the studio, and growing a little impatient. The place was charged with excitement. It was eight-thirty. Yet the chairs that surrounded the speakers' table were empty.

Suddenly through the drone of conversation the shrill cry of police sirens filled the room. A few minutes later the line of khaki-clad air-men filed across the room and took their places at the table of honor.

Toward the end of the banquet the fliers were introduced. Marek studied David Rutledge when his turn came, his serious, clear-cut face, his quiet unassuming way of speaking as he lauded the cooperation of ground crew, workers in the plane factories who had built the finest planes in the skies. . . .

The speeches were over and long lines were forming to congratulate the heroes. Marek edged into one of the lines and waited his turn along with the others. David didn't recognize him at first.

"Your face is familiar," he said.

Marek told him who he was.

"That's what war can do to you," Dave laughed. His gaze moved past Marek as he said it, and disappointment showed in it. "Julie didn't come with you."

"No. Matter of fact, I asked her but—"

"Oh sure. Stuffy civic affairs aren't much in Julie's line. I saw some magazine articles about her. Looks like she's doing all right."

A number of answers flashed through Marek's mind. But then it wasn't his business to tell Julie's friends her change of plans. He said merely, "Julie's a great girl."

The line was crowding up on Marek, pushing him impatiently along. He thought of Julie's tenseness last night when he'd said her of Dave being here. Probably been waiting all evening beside the phone. He turned back.

"You'll call her before you leave town?"

Dave was shaking hands with the man behind Marek. "Afraid I can't," he said to Marek. "We're leaving early in the morning, you know."

MAREK shook hands with the other heroes absently. He was filled with a kind of bitter relief. Relief because the one stumbling block to his own happiness had, of its own accord, rolled out of his path. No man after a life and death siege like Attu would pass through a girl's town and not get in touch with her unless he was completely indifferent. Even Julie must see this.

Bitter because of the agony this seeing was going to be to Julie. Damn it, why couldn't the man at least have called her? If it had only been a light—or another woman! Julie had split. She would have been angry then. She might have come back to the studio next day—or maybe straight to him.

Anything would have been easier for her than this. He knew women well enough to know what indifference could do to them. She might drag on out there like a zombie for months or years.

Henry Zimmers from the Reporter had come up. "What about a drink?"

"I could use one," Marek said shortly.

TIMES TOPICS

SPECIAL SESSION

State Senator L. E. Chapman has been advised from Harrisburg that a special session of the Legislature will be called by Gov. Edward Martin but that it will not be called until action on the Soldiers' Vote is taken by Congress. Then the Legislature will be summoned to pass a law whereby the soldiers of this state will have an opportunity to cast a ballot in the fall election.

CONSIDERING PLAN

Veterans of Foreign Wars at recent meetings have discussed at some length the matter of appointing a full time employee for the handling of veterans affairs. Now that the men are returning home the matter has their master- ing out pay, allotments to wives and children, etc., etc., is occupying more and more time. To aid in the work the VFW is planning to set up a bureau to handle such matters and the plans are now being formulated and will undoubtedly be announced within the next few weeks.

WILL MEET MONDAY

Council and School board will hold their regular meetings on Monday evening and both meetings will undoubtedly be devoted to routine matters. At the Council meeting a report relative to an arrangement at the foot of Second avenue to allow the fire department to pump water from the Conewago creek will be reported upon. The fire and street committees have had the matter under advisement and they were also expected to consult with the Warren Water Company relative to the providing of water for fire purposes.

STARBRICK UNIT
Founder's Day was observed at the regular meeting of Starbrick PTA, held Wednesday night at the school building. The meeting opened with singing of "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp" with Mrs. Helen Hicks at the piano. Don Lauffer spoke on Cub Scouting and the unit voted to sponsor a cub pack. Entertainment was in the nature of a Founder's Day play "Building for Victory", presented by six members of the unit: Helen Newark, Ruth Morris, Ethel Huckabone, Malsie Smith, Irene Miller and Helen Hicks. Bessie Huckabone helped direct the presentation. Eugene Pastrick, Harold Smithers, Jr., Ted Huckabone and Richard Huckabone did a stunt and colored movies were shown. Refreshments were served by Marie Gaghan, Arlene Johnson and Mabel Keller.

THE new open neckline trend in suits for spring makes dickeys doubly important this year. Above are several favorites featured at neckwear counters. From top to bottom: A simple, eye-catching dickey in deep pink faille with matching venise lace bow; the new V-neckline of this starched rayon sheer is outlined with embroidered banding; the jabot is edged with taiting; black stitching borders the up-standing ruffle of this starched pink organdie dickey for special occasions; a silk mousseline de soie 5-pointed jabot dickey with Val lace insertions.

Scouts To Deliver Posters To Borough Stores Saturday

Boy Scout dispatch bearers will be on the job again Saturday morning to distribute the bi-monthly allotment of posters from the Office of War Information to stores in Warren borough. There are two different kinds of posters.

The copy of the first poster reads "We Caught Hell!—someone at home talked." The second poster has to do with the rising cost of living. "We'll Take Care of Rising Prices. 1) Buy and hold War Bonds. 2) Pay your share of taxes. 3) Provide adequate life insurance savings for our future. 4) Reduce our debts as much as possible."

5) Buy only what we need and make what we have last longer. 6) Follow ration rules and price ceilings. 7) Cooperate with our Government's wage stabilization program."

The Scouts who are distributing the posters on Saturday morning are as follows: Ted Shattuck, Bill Erickson, Jay Smith, Bob Eadie, Carl Smith, all of Troop No. 2, and Andrew McComas, Charles Henderson, James Albaugh and Dick Stone of Troop No. 8.

Birthday Party Of Girl Scouts Is Family Event

The Girl Scout dinner party at 6:15 Tuesday at the YWCA will be a "family affair", with council members present nearly 100 per cent and large representations of leaders, troop committee members and parents of the Scouts.

To make the occasion a truly gala one, representatives of other social agencies and civic clubs will join with the adult Girl Scouts in celebrating the 32nd birthday of Girl Scouting. Mrs. Martin Carlson, commissioner of Girl Scouts in Jamestown, and Mrs. Carter, their executive secretary, will be among those present.

Awards will be presented to adults who have served in Girl Scouting for five years or more and several ten-year numerals are to be awarded.

Music will be furnished by the PAC Orchestra under the direction of Helen Claire Hulings. Father Alfred Bauer will give the invocation and G. H. Rickert, superintendent of Kane public schools, will be the guest speaker.

Table decorations are being prepared by Girl Scout troops in Warren borough, each troop to carry out its own interpretation of the dinner theme, "International Friendship".

Nutrition Expert Reveals Figures Before Zonta Club

Members of Warren Zonta Club were shocked to learn last night that, despite high wages and general employment, there are more undernourished children in the United States than in any other country.

Miss Arleina Schnure, county home economics supervisor, made this startling statement in her talk on nutrition at a dinner-meeting of the club held in the YWCA activities building. Miss Schnure explained that it is possible to eat a large amount of food and still be undernourished. The school luncheon program which is in operation in the county was also explained by the speaker.

Miss Schnure was introduced by Miss Dorothy Newell, program chairman. Dinner arrangements were in charge of Isabelle Beck, assisted by Anne Donahue and Ethel Hodges, and decorations featured a St. Patrick's Day motif.

Another Hit Is Scored Locally By the Players

Despite the youth of a majority of cast members and the title "Junior Miss", the Warren Players' production at the Woman's Club last evening was anything but juvenile for that word is described by Brother Webster as meaning "immature or undeveloped."

"Junior Miss" is one of the most convincing plays the club has ever attempted and the opening performance was a genuine tribute to the diligence and capabilities of Director Astrid Cowden, who, it was learned following the show, has been taken seriously ill and was not present to see them receive their plaudits from the largest audience of the season.

The play is being repeated to night and curtain time is 8:30 o'clock.

Social Events

MRS. GANNOE HAS 69TH ANNIVERSARY

Mrs. Katherine Gannoe celebrated her 69th birthday anniversary Thursday and was honored with two family gatherings to mark the event. At noontime, her sister, Mrs. Frank Tuttle, entertained for the five brothers and sisters for their first get-together in seven years. They were Mrs. Gannoe, Edward Kehrl, Mrs. Tuttle, Mrs. B. W. Woodruff, Warren, and Rev. Frank Kehrl, American Sunday School missionary in Cleveland, O.

For the evening meal, Mrs. Thomas Gannoe entertained the children and grandchildren. The two children are Thomas Gannoe and Mrs. Merle Schweitzer and she has five grandchildren who joined in the pleasant evening.

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE

Last evening a group of friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Evans, Cayuga avenue, for a six o'clock birthday dinner surprising their daughter, Mrs. Richard Curran, who was celebrating her birthday anniversary. Those present were: Mrs. Francis Erickson, Mrs. Mary Cullinane, Mrs. William Moore, Miss Mary Branch, Mrs. Jean Sugarman, of Denver, Colo.

Life for Johnny Jones comes wrapped in PAPER

Blood plasma is saving thousands of Johnny Joneses. Plasma—life blood itself—goes out to the battlefield in fragile containers. But they won't break. They get to Johnny all right—because they're packed in a paper carton.

Without that paper carton, Johnny's chances wouldn't be so good. So help him out—save your waste paper.

Remember also that paper wraps or makes

700,000 vital war articles—bomb parts, camouflage strips, "K" Ration containers, gas mask canisters, supply parachutes...

Johnny Jones, on a distant battlefield, needs those things made from waste paper. Make sure he gets them.

Church Notes

At the First Church of the United Brethren in Christ on Sunday, Dr. S. Paul Weaver, New York Conference superintendent from Jamestown, will be guest speaker for the 11 a. m. service. There will be no evening service because of the Union Lenten Preaching Mission at Grace Methodist church and the young people will join with others at Grace church at 6:30 o'clock.

Pastor C. A. Leslie, of Kane, will preach at the 3 p. m. Sunday worship service in Bethany Lutheran church in Sheffield, where the following events are planned for next week: Monday, 7:30, board of administration; Tuesday, 8 p. m., Loyalty Bible Class in church parlors with Mrs. William Angie and Mrs. Ethel Peterson as hostesses; Wednesday, 8 p. m., choir rehearsal; Saturday, 3 p. m., Junior Missionary Society.

"A Great Christian's Secret" will be the Sunday morning topic in First Presbyterian church; two Bach selections, "From God Naught Shall Divide Me" and "Hark! A Voice Saith All Are Mortal" will be played by Jackson Barrell; a trio composed of Mrs. Nestore Bartholomew, Mrs. Florence Ott and Mrs. Violet Borg, will sing "Legende" by Tschakowski and the choir will sing "God So Loved the World" by Marks. Services of the Sunday evening Church of Tomorrow for this week are cancelled and young folks will join others at Grace Methodist.

At the 8 a. m. service in Trinity Memorial church Sunday a corporate communion will be held by confirmation classes of 1938 to 1941, inclusive; at the 11 a. m. worship period, corporate communion for classes of 1900 to 1910, inclusive. All those confirmed in these years are especially invited to attend.

Rev. Whitford, Oil City District superintendent of the Free Methodist church, will be at the Sheffield church today through Sunday to conduct the quarterly meeting sessions. Rev. Allan Russell, pastor, extends a cordial invitation to all members and friends to hear this capable preacher expound the gospel.

Events scheduled in Moriah Lutheran parish in the coming week are: Wednesday, 2:30, Martha Society; Thursday, 7 p. m., board of administration; Thursday, 8 p. m., Brotherhood. Rev. Carl Nelson will be preaching for the 4 p. m. worship service on Sunday.

The 7:30 p. m. Sunday service in Calvary church is again cancelled because of the Lenten Preaching Mission at Grace church, and pastor Martin Hamlin announces the communion service will follow immediately upon the 11 a. m. worship.

NOTICE

"Pulpwood cutting has recently been listed as an essential occupation and those engaged in it should now include such activities in connection with any application for supplementary gasoline, tire, or automotive rations."

"If you are using gasoline-powered equipment in sawing, drawing or trucking pulpwood and it is absolutely necessary for you to have an additional allowance, you should report the fact to your local rationing board, giving full information as to the number of cords to be cut and the distance it must be trucked."

"Ceiling prices for pulpwood have been set by this office and are available upon application to your nearest OPA District Office. There is no present intention of revising these prices."

MENUS OF THE DAY
By CHARLOTTE ADAMS
A New Souffle With Bacon Gravy
(Rational Items Are Starred)

Escarole Souffle
With
★ Bacon Gravy
★ Let Potatoes
★ Snap Beans
★ Melba Toast
★ Stuffed Prune Salad

(Recipes Serve Four)
Escarole Souffle
1 cup chopped escarole
1/2 cup escarole
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup salt and pepper
4 tablespoons flour
2 eggs yolks
2 eggs whites

Cook escarole in boiling salted water until tender (about ten minutes). Drain, reserving liquor. Melt margarine. Remove from stove and blend in flour. Return to stove, add milk and escarole liquor, and cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Add egg yolks, beaten slightly, and escarole. Cool. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Place in buttered casserole. Bake at 350° 35 minutes.

Bacon Gravy
★ 1 slice bacon
★ 4 tablespoons
★ 1/2 cup milk
★ 1/2 cup salt and pepper
Fry the bacon crisp. Pour off fat, all but four tablespoonsful. Blend flour into this, return to low fire and add milk, stirring until thickened and smooth. Crumble bacon fine and add to gravy. Serve in separate dish, to be poured over souffle after it has been served.

Stuffed Prune Salad
★ 16 large prunes
★ 1/2 cup blueberries
★ 1/2 cup small prunes
★ 1/2 cup French dressing
★ 1/2 cup cream
Split the prunes down one side and remove pits. Mix blue and cream cheeses, adding enough light cream to smooth them. Stuff prunes with this mixture. Place four for each person in a bed of crisp lettuce leaves and pour your favorite French dressing over the top.

"Lend Me Your Ear"

PRIVATE JOE MADEIROS, winner of the Purple Heart and Silver Star has accidentally started a fashion for that's beginning to sweep the country.
After 22 months overseas, he is convalescing in an Army hospital in Atlantic City from wounds received in the African campaign. In spite of a cast on his leg, Private Madeiros comes to the craft room of the USO club where wounded soldiers are learning to make jewelry, leather belts and other articles for fun. Here he is clipping his bright idea—an earring made from an Army button—on the ear of pretty Suzanne Cope, assistant director of the club. Madeiros' pals are copying the find. The girl friends back home like it fine.

Erie District Issues New OPA Ceiling Prices On Food

New OPA ceiling food prices for the entire counties of Warren, Clarion, Forest and Venango counties have been issued recently from the Erie District office. Grocers have already received from Panel Assistants OPA Community Ceiling Price sheets to display in their stores. By checking these prices before buying, the shopper knows whether or not she is paying more than ceiling prices. Thus every family can do a big part in holding down serious inflation.

Within a few days the Times-Mirror will print these lists of OPA ceiling prices for both Group I and Group 2 and 3 and 4 stores. And the Warren Price Panel asks that every subscriber clip these prices from the paper, tack them up in the kitchen and check the prices of items before buying. Housewives will find many items in the grocery store which are not included in the printed Ceiling Price lists. So it is more important than ever that the prices of those listed be adhered to. These ceiling prices are issued

TIMES TOPICS

PLANE WON ATTENTION

A P-25 plane yesterday afternoon caused a craning of necks as the big ship circled Warren several times. Much speculation as to whom the pilot might be has been caused but as yet no one has definitely identified the flyer. V. S. King, of the Airport feels that within a few days someone will write in relative to the flight.

REHEARSALS PROGRESSING

With the cast and chorus hard at work for the North Warren Civic Club Minstrels the directors are pleased at the progress being made and they anticipate one of the best shows ever put on by this organization. There will be many new features incorporated in the program and the songs and jokes will all be new.

Forest Fire Sweeps Over Saybrook Land

Thursday the first forest fire of the season broke out near Saybrook from sparks thrown out by a passing train. The fire started in dry grass and spread rapidly until an acre and one-half had been burned over. This was a record for a first fire this early in the season. Last year the first fire broke out on March 18 and that set a record. Men from the Federal Forestry and State Forestry services co-operated in putting out the fire yesterday.

Tomorrow representatives of the Federal Forestry Service will go to Erie to meet with Pennsylvania railroad officials in an endeavor to get a burning program outlined whereby the lands along the railroads will be burned over. This will check fires starting along the railroad right of way. Every effort is being made by the forest service to halt fires and by preventing them a big step forward is taken. Manpower is limited and no youths under 16 may be hired to help in fire fighting so the forest service is handicapped. Use of farmers and industrial workers in the woods fighting fire interferes in production and hampers the war effort.

It is also asked that persons who gather debris do not burn it only when men are about so that a possible damaging fire will not result. Many women clean up yards and properties and burn the debris along toward evening. This all adds to the fire hazard.

Rev. Barr To Preside At Lenten Meet

Dr. H. H. Barr, retired, will preside at tonight's Lenten Preaching Mission in Grace Methodist church, assisted by Rev. Ernest Ruark, First Baptist minister.

Dr. John H. Paul, of Kentucky, will preach his final sermon, taking for his topic "The Immortal Soul", and acknowledgement will be made by representatives of the several participating churches.

The attendance last night was very good, with the auditorium well filled.

On Sunday evening, closing night of the mission, the speaker will be Rev. S. Paul Weaver, of Jamestown. Union Brethren conference superintendent. This service is at 7:30 o'clock, preceded by a 6:30 singfest and worship period for the young people of the community, in charge of the Warren Christian Youth Council.

New Troop Of Girl Scouts Is Invested

A new Brownie Scout troop, No. 56, at Home street school, has become a full fledged member of the Girl Scout organization under the leadership of Mrs. Harry Johnson and Mrs. N. Nicholson. Mothers of the Brownies were present for the investiture ceremony held in the school, when the girls received their pins. Troop members are Connie Barto, Marilyn Bimber, Eleanor Anderson, Mary Colvin, Norma Kilbury, Patty Harrington, Jeanne Kohler, Donna Larson and Marjory Nicholson.

Following the ceremony, refreshments were served by the troop committee, which is composed of Mrs. Paul Harrington, chairman; Mrs. Guilford Branch and Mrs. Leo Kilbury.

YOUNGVILLE NEWS

Youngsville, March 2—Frederick Carlson, son of Mrs. Wave N. Carlson is receiving his M.B.A. degree from the Wharton Graduate School of Finance in Philadelphia on Saturday March 4th. He expects to come home Monday from Philadelphia for a visit with his mother in Youngsville before accepting a position.

Mrs. Gurney Ball was the hostess Wednesday afternoon to the Orange Circle. An interesting letter from Mrs. Alexander Kemp, missionary in Africa was read and reading was given of the 3rd program of the Youngsville high commencement in 1889. Mrs. Charles Byer conducted a social hour with a perception contest and a spelling game. Winners in the contests were Mrs. Nelson and Mrs. Charles Briggs. A delicious cooperative dinner was enjoyed.

April meeting will be held with Mrs. Kellerman, with Mrs. Tellman program leader.

Interest seems to be growing in the Youth Fellowship meeting being held Sunday evenings. At the meeting Sunday evening Feb. 27th Warren Jones Jr. lead the devotion.

Arden Johnson told the story of "Joseph" and a piano number was given by Donald Walter. Next Sunday evening March 5th, Reed Detar will be the leader, assisted by other young people.

Mrs. Wave M. Carlson returned this week from a visit to Cleveland and Akron, Ohio, having given in the latter city a display of spring dresses.

Mrs. Beth Higgins, a student of Bucknell College and Miss Barbara Engstrom of Penn State College are spending this week in town.

Mrs. Donald Agnew and daughter of Buffalo are guests of Mrs. Agnew's parents Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Anderson.

Robert Nyquist is now home from the army having been honorably discharged following an illness.

Word has been received of the advancement of Gerald Russell to the army rank of Major Russell.

Lt. Howard Spencer of Yuma Air Base, Yuma, Arizona is a guest this week of his parents Mr. and Mrs. Charles Spencer. He returns on Thursday to Yuma.

Tin cans are made mostly of sheet steel and only a little tin.

Record Mark In Trial Shoot

An all-time record for marksmanship on the armory range was set last night when the 23rd class of the Warren Small Arms Firing School shot its qualifying round and Robert P. Ferry reached 312 out of a possible 350.

Others qualifying as basic rifleman first class were James R. Baird with 289, Gerald Conchboy 284, Claude Perrigo 272, Rudolph Hale 271, Leonard Lucia 266, Ernest Sharp 263 and LeRoy Miller 251.

Creed Erickson fired 232 to qualify as rifleman second class.

Others not present last evening will fire their qualifying round next week.

A new class will be started next Tuesday and all interested may enroll at the armory at seven o'clock.

Recreation Poll Results Compiled

The youth members of the committee on community recreation will hold a meeting tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 for a final rehearsal before they go on the air Sunday afternoon. The results of both recreation polls, held at the Warren High School and the Beaty School, will be worked into the program. These 8 young people have made a conscientious effort to discover the interests and needs of the youth group they represent.

The program they have planned for Sunday afternoon goes on the air over Jamestown's radio station, WJTN, Dial 1240, at 3 o'clock.

Covering the Sports Front

—WITH—
BOB JOHNSON

While the Dragons trudge off to battle at Franklin tonight, quite a few fans are focusing their eyes on the Jamestown-Erie East outcome at Jamestown—one that may eventually mean a lot to the Blue and White.

In the event that Sharon should drop their end of the District holdings to Erie, Warren will take on the Centaurs, a task that should be much more to their liking—and at least a somewhere near consensus of the way the two teams will stack up can be drawn—if the score is close on the hilltop.

Of course all of this still hinges on whether Warren can knock off another slice of District 10 by downing Cranberry, the Class A titleholder, a feat that has been forwarded to the Dragons by most everyone—but may be their downfall.

Just for size—we'll skip the Cranberry bout and sum it up like this: Jamestown should beat Erie, you can give Warren a pretty good chance of topping them too—if Jamestown loses—and by a close count, the locals still look pretty good for a cop-by-virtue of a Jamestown rout down here and a close loss to them up there.

Now we have Erie catching Sharon off balance next Friday and handing them a set-back—So Warren takes on Erie on a neutral floor probably Franklin's—at least one they've seen before—they slip one over on the Centaurs and from there we can see a way south for the Dragons—giving them state-wide recognition—and a few days off from school—for the latter reason they'll fight like heck. Anyway we can dream, can't we? They don't win a title every year.

Bob Williams, of Sugar Grove, now with the Rangers at Camp San Luis Obispo, Calif., reports playing golf with his commanding officer for quarter skins. That always was his favorite game and he took him over for plenty. We heard from Chink Collins also that he expected to see that Phoenix, Ariz., tourney, but no word since—Van Winkle could have started his nap 20 years ago, awake in any major league park this year, and still thought he was in on the same ball game. A lot of fans are awakening to the fact that they missed a swell club in passing up seeing Warren High this season. Uncle Sam has thrown in his lot for a few of the ace bowlers at both the Elks and Conewango Club and it may mean a lot in the coming roll-offs.

Titusville Loses To Irvine Shooters

Sharpshooters of the Irvine Rod & Gun Club had very little trouble with the Titusville team in Wednesday night's match at the Warren Armory, winning handily by a score of 959 to 937. Big guns for Irvine were Childs and Schultz with 194 apiece out of a possible 200, while the 190 registered by Lindquist was tops for the Titusville squad.

DUDLEY SLICES FIVE UNDER PAR IN TUNEUP

Guilford, Miss., March 3—(P)—Big Ed Dudley, president of the Professional Golfers' Association, appears ready to give some of the association's members trouble in the $6,000 Guilford open which begins here today.

Yesterday in the pro-amateur tourney which serves as a tune-up for the open, Dudley sliced five strokes off par with a 32-34-66 to post low score for the 72-hole Medal Play test.

Two strokes behind in the warmup round was genial Byron Nelson with a 68. Jimmy Hines whipped out a 59 for No. 3 spot, and Johnny Revolta's 70 was the next best.

Sammy Byrd, surprise winner of the $5,000 New Orleans open last week, went one over par with a 72, but the Birmingham golfer said "I think my game's going pretty good."

It is said that Mary, Queen of Scots, bathed in wine.

Emporium Beats Struthers By Close Score of 50 to 46

In one of the best games seen on the Y.M.C.A. court this year, the Sylvania team of Emporium defeated the Struthers team of this city 50-46.

The Emporium boys displayed the kind of ball playing that keeps the opponents on the jump and the spectators on the edge of their chairs. Dead shots under the basket and not to be trusted when set for the long ones, they also had a rushing type of play that swept the opposition aside to score. Wicks, former St. Lawrence U. player, was the flashiest thing seen on this court this season. Quick as lightning and possessing the ability to make uncanny shots, he led the scoring with 25 points. Dean Nelson was the high man for the locals getting 14 points.

The wind-up game between the Blomquist team and The Warren High School Seconds found the Blomquists coming out on top with a 11 point lead the final score being 44-33.

Juliano of the Seconds was high with 16 points while Weidert was the gunner for Blomquist.

Beau Jack Is Favored To Retain Title

By FRITZ HOWELL

New York, March 3—(P)—Third and final episode of the Beau Jack-Bob Montgomery serial for the New York version of the world's lightweight title is tonight's feature at Madison Square Garden.

And everyone's wondering if the all-star cast will do an about-face this time and follow the script. They took turns playing hero in the two previous installments, each winning when the betting boys thought he wouldn't. Last May, as now, Beau Jack held the crown and was a 5-12 favorite. Bob beat him and took the title.

Newsom Gives Reporters Jolt In Long Talk With Connie

Philadelphia, March 3—(P)—Connie Mack, for all his 81 years, wouldn't admit he's slipping, but...

A 35-year-old citizen of Hartsville, S. C., strode into Shibe Park yesterday for all the world like a conquering hero come on—and not only out-talked the sage of Shibe Park before a battery of newsmen but plumped himself down in Connie's personal chair and proceeded to hold court in the best Mackian manner.

At the end of nearly three hours of rather vague discussions, during which pitcher Bobo Newsom said practically everything except yes to Connie's suggestion that a contract ought to be signed, Newsom, Mack and the newsmen were agreed that if Bobo pitches this summer it will be for the Athletics. The only hitch seemed to be "go into business" (he didn't specify what) or that he might not be able to work himself into peak physical condition, by his bride of two months, the former Ruth Griffith of McKeesport, indicated that he would give Mack a definite answer in a few days.

RECORD STAGE PLAY RUN

From 1853 to 1930 the play "Uncle Tom's Cabin" was showing somewhere in America, giving it the longest continuous "run" of any production.

Plans for Display of Relics Of War Is Exciting Interest

Much interest is being shown in the display of war relics that will be shown late next week in one of the display windows of the Metzger-Wright store. The exhibit is being sponsored by Warren County Chapter, American Red Cross in conjunction with the annual Red Cross War Fund Drive which opens March 13th.

Several offers have already been made, to members of the War Fund Committee, by parents or friends of soldiers or sailors who have received relics and souvenirs sent them by men in the service. It is hoped that all persons in Warren county who have received war souvenirs or interesting objects pertaining to the war will bring them to the Metzger-Wright store between Monday, March 6th and Wednesday, the 8th, inclusive. All such exhibits must be tagged with the name of the donor and on the reverse side the address of the donor should appear. Exhibits may be turned over to Mrs. Mildred Carter at the Metzger-Wright store during store hours the first three days of the week. The display will be on view towards the end of next week and will continue into the week of March 13th. Persons loaning souvenirs or other trophies are reminded that they must be called for 5 days after the window display is taken down.

While exhibits from foreign lands will no doubt prove the most interesting articles pertaining to our own army and navy will be welcome if they are of a military nature and have to do with the war effort. An advertisement in tonight's issue of the Times-Mirror gives further details about the proposed exhibit which the Warren County Chapter, American Red Cross, is sponsoring.

CHANGELESS In a Changing World

Today the world is a scene of amazing changes. Wartime restrictions show their influence in every sphere of life. Even marriage customs are altered to suit the expediency of war. There are furlough weddings in double time . . . a scant and simple trousseau. But with all these innovations it is good to remember the changeless beauty of genuine Orange Blossom rings whose perfection admits of no change—whose excellence is everywhere recognized. And best of all, these quality-line rings are surprisingly economical to buy.
